In these art kits, campers will explore indigenous plants, make outdoor art installations from nature, and take some time to appreciate the natural wonder and magic of Appalachia.

Art Kit 1: Art of Our Appalachian Woods

Home Sweet Home! Our Southeastern Ohio home offers the inspiration for a rich culture of art-making. Activities combine camper observations and some truly unique and exciting ways of making art. Campers will explore the attributes of different native plants, learn about creating images of Appalachian mountains, and more in this art kit celebrating life in beautiful Appalachia.

Art Kit 2: Art Outside

Campers are invited to step outside (with your help, of course!) and soak in the beauty of nature. Check out those trees! Look at those incredible clouds! Smell that freshly cut grass! Campers will create their own outdoor nature installations like the famous artist Andy Goldsworthy as they learn different ways to make art outside, and observe some art that nature has created!

Description: Both themes in these art kits have long histories as entertaining and educating visual art forms. They rise above language barriers to provide beautiful, weird, exciting visual images. In What a Circus!, campers will explore both dreamy 2-dimensional representations of circus life and they'll have the chance to practice some circus-related movements and juggling! Puppets are next and campers will have the chance to create a couple of different types of puppets as well as explore the art of storytelling.

Art Kit 3: What a Circus!

What is entertaining? Human skills and daring acts. Incredible animals. Humor, laughter, general goofiness. The beauty of the circus lies in its purely visual nature, with no language barriers to slow it down. Learn about Artist Marc Chagall and his Le Cirque series while making a colorful picture with oil pastels, and practice tumbling and juggling and more!

Art Kit 4: Puppets

Puppetry is an ancient form of theater that may even date back to 3,000 B.C. Puppets are figures - animal, human, abstract - that are manipulated or used by human hands, not by mechanical means. Puppets can be found all over the world in various forms: hand puppets, Marionettes, stick puppets, shadow puppets, and finger puppets. Puppets are an amazing and fun way to convey a story to an audience. All the world's a stage! Or at least, the whole house can be! Campers will learn about different kinds of puppets and make a variety of storytelling puppet theater projects!

For centuries, people have used a variety of materials and fibers to weave items that are both necessary (blankets, rope) and purely aesthetic. The theme for this art kit centers around the fiber arts and using our hands to create something functional and beautiful. Campers will be given the opportunity to explore different materials and techniques for weaving as well as exciting new ways of crafting 3-dimensional art!

Art Kit 14: We've Got to Stitch Together – Sewing and String Art
